

CIPRNet lecture on Railway Infrastructure Security

Thursday, June 4th 2015, h 15:00

PRABB - Conference Room

University Campus Bio-Medico of Rome

Via Álvaro del Portillo, 21 - 00128 Rome

There is no fee to attend to the conference, but please register by sending an e-mail within May 30th to postlauream@unicampus.it or calling at (+39) 06.22541.9311.

www.MasterHomelandSecurity.eu - www.unicampus.it - www.ciprnet.eu

The security of railway mass transportation systems, represent today a challenge given their complexity and peculiarities, both from technological and logistic points of view. However it is mandatory to increase the protection of those system due to the current socio-political scenario and the centrality of Italy in the year of EXPO 2015. In collaboration with national and international experts, this lecture aims to highlight the main risks and the most modern solutions used for the protection of railway systems.

14:30 Registration

15:00 Welcome remarks

Prof. Andrea Onetti Muda

Rector

University Campus Bio-Medico of Rome

15:15 The Railway Infrastructure security

Moderator:

Prof. Giorgio Franceschetti

Professor Emeritus

University Federico II of Naples

Speakers:

15:30

Prof. Roberto Setola

Director Master in Homeland Security

University Campus Bio-Medico of Rome

16:00

Dr. Franco Fiumara

Director, Corporate Security Directorate

Ferrovie dello Stato Italiane

16:30

Dr. Chanan Graf

Former Chief Security Officer, Security Division

Israeli Railways

17:00

Dr. José Pires

Senior Advisor, Security Division

International Union of Railways

17:30

Conclusions

Prof. Marcella Trombetta

Vice-Dean

Department of Engineering

University Campus Bio-Medico of Rome